

Welcome to Ollie's Adventure

Ollie's Adventure began as a deeply personal journey — a story of love, comfort, and connection inspired by a very special boy named Leylan. In 2014, at just two years old and still non-verbal, Leylan, who is autistic, helped bring to life a giraffe comfort buddy he affectionately named "Bibi." His quiet yet profound connection helped shape what is now known as Ollie's Adventure — a symbol of hope and comfort for people of all ages.

Each Ollie is lovingly handmade in South Africa, crafted with care and intention. More than just a toy, Ollie is a comfort buddy — created to bring warmth, emotional support, and a sense of safety to those facing life's hardest moments. Whether it is someone with special needs, a heart navigating through trauma or loss, or a patient enduring a long hospital stay, Ollie is there to offer gentle companionship and remind them they are not alone.

But Ollie's Adventure is about more than comfort — it's about hope and empowerment. Our vision is to share Ollie's embrace with the world, while also creating meaningful job opportunities within our local community. As we grow, we aim to train and employ local individuals to help craft Ollie, building brighter futures together — one stitch at a time.

Time and again, Ollie has arrived at just the right moment — a soft presence bringing healing, calm, and connection.

Now, we invite you to be part of the journey.

By adopting an Ollie, you may help send this comforting companion into the arms of someone who truly needs it. Each Ollie carries a message of love and care — along with your name — so the person receiving it knows they are not alone, and that someone, somewhere, is thinking of them with kindness and compassion.

Thank you for your support.

We are stronger Together.
